Description of the employer

Hekta Sirdal AS is a artisan bakery in Sirdal.

Sirdal is a tourist destination located in the southern part of Norway, and is known for its spectacular mountain landscapes. In winter season the main activity is skiing, and Sirdals over 4500 cabins are being filled with people. In summer season, there is a lot of drive through traffic, with tourists coming for Kjerag, or the spectacular scenic road Suleskard – Setesdal.

Hekta offers freshly baked pastry and bread all year. We use no preservatives, and our bread is baked with flour – water – salt. In some of our bread we have a little yeast, but mostly we bake solely with sourdough. Our very popular buns are baked with fresh milk from one of the owners farm. We collaborate with many of the local producers, and wish to offer a warm atmosphere based ob our passion for baking, for clean and local food.

We also have a passion for other cultures – and want to play with the fusion of the continental kitchen meeting our traditional one – and we are always interested in new ideas.

Hekta offers a nice working environment, good working conditions, and can help with accommodation.
