

Apprenticeship as a professional driver (m/f/d) (ID: CC-SpedLog_012)

INTRODUCING OURSELVES:

As a provider of transport services and warehouse logistics, we have earned a very good reputation. Well-trained employees form the basis for our success – which is why we are again looking for trainees as professional drivers (m/f/d) for 2025.

YOUR AREAS OF RESPONSIBILITY

Your training vehicles will be vehicle combinations and articulated vehicles of class CE with a minimum length of 16 meters or vehicles of class D with a minimum length of 11.80 meters. You will then learn how to drive these over public roads not only safely, but also economically. As a professional driver, you will not only be on German roads, so an important part of the training is to get to know the legal regulations at home and abroad

YOUR REQUIREMENTS/ Your profile

For training as a professional driver, you should be responsible and reliable, because your task is to bring people or valuable goods safely to their destination without exposing them to dangerous situations. If you travel a lot on foreign roads, a good knowledge of English will help you.

- You are in possession of the B car/minibus driving licence (formerly: FS 3)
- You are customer-oriented and motivated
- You can work independently
- You value reliability and the ability to work in a team
- You should have at least a lower secondary school leaving certificate
- You should have at least German language level B1

WHAT TO EXPECT

- The training to become a professional driver lasts three years and takes place both at the vocational school and in the training company.
- Familiarization with the functioning of the vehicles.
- Introduction to safety guidelines: freight, cargo unloading, hazard protection in the event of accidents, etc.
- Learning how to plan trips according to economic aspects, preparing invoices, documenting services.
- A collective agreement applies to the filling of the vacancy.
Collective agreement: Freight forwarding and logistics
